VETRIX
Rethink Healing

The logo graphic for Vetrix features a stylized, yellow outline of a horse's head and neck, with a flowing mane. The horse is facing right. The word "VETRIX" is written in a bold, green, sans-serif font, and the tagline "Rethink Healing" is written in a smaller, green, italicized sans-serif font below it.

Healion

Healion is a decellularized amniotic membrane supplied in fine, dry, sterilized white powder form. Healion is intended to provide connective tissue matrix to replace or supplement damaged or inadequate integumental tissue for acute and chronic wounds, as well as modulate inflammation, enhance healing, and reduce scar tissue formation.

PERFORMANCE

Unique in manufacturing and composition, Healion provides a superior healing environment suited for tissue repair.

VERSATILE AND EASY TO HANDLE

Healion is packaged sterile in an easy to use bellow dispenser, providing the practitioner complete control and flexibility in treating even the most difficult wounds.

AFFORDABLE

Healion is cost effective and packaged to fit procedural needs, making it the perfect tool for wound management.
